SEA FIGHTING NOT YET IN PROSPECT

The Exact Whereabouts of Fleets is Not Certain.

Several Ships Report Seeing the Russians—At Least Forty Vessels in the Squadron.

LAND FIGHTING TO BE RESUMED

New York, April 13.—It is generally admitted in Tokyo, according to the Express correspondents there, says an American dispatch from London, that Admiral Togo has completed his battle organization by dividing his fleet into three squadrons, flying, main and reserve.

The flying squadron, made up of his fastest cruisers, already is scouting the China sea, and will open the fighting. The main squadron, made up of most of his battleships and armored cruisers, is to follow into action; the reserve squadron, comprising the remaining battleships and cruisers, will complete the attack if necessary and guard against any attack in the rear.

To Have Court Martial.

St. Petersburg, April 13.—A court martial has been appointed to inquire into the naval battle at Port Arthur when the Russian ships made a sortie August 10, and were attacked by Togo.

Saw 40 Russian Ships.

Hong Kong, April 13.—The British cruiser, Iphezenia, has telegraphed naval authorities by wireless that she passed forty-two Russian ships 140 miles south of Saigon, the fleet headed north. Two Japanese warships passed Castle Rock, Hong Kong Tuesday night, bound south at full speed. The vessels showed no lights.

Renewal of Land Fighting.

St. Petersburg, April 13.—A dispatch from Gushchinsk says that a reconnaissance developed the fact that Japanese have captured Tauluchun, Manchuria. Toward the east the Japanese line extends from Minhumai to Sadyne. Better weather prevails and a renewal of fighting is expected shortly.

British Steamer Seized.

Tokyo, April 13.—The British steamer Henry Boldewick, was seized by Japanese guardships off the island of Hokkaido April 7. The charter of her cargo was not divulged and her destination was not stated in the official announcement. It is presumed, however, the vessel was bound for Vladivostok.

Location of Fleet.

London, April 13.—News has reached here that the Russian fleet was engaged yesterday in coaling off Natuna Islands. As the Russian vessels were already heavily coaled when observed passing Singapore, this is taken as an indication that the fleet is planning to put into Saigon, but is planning to continue its voyage through the China Sea toward Vladivostok. The Natuna Islands are located northeast of the Anambas group, near which the supposed battle of the fleets was reported in progress yesterday.

Fleet Sighted.

Singapore, April 13.—The steamer Nubia reported this morning that at noon Tuesday she passed the Russian fleet of not less than 42 ships in latitude, eight degrees north, longitude, 109 degrees east. The fleet was steaming northward presumably bound for Saigon, French Cochinchina. The position in which the Nubia reports the fleet would place the vessels about 250 miles north of Natuna Islands and east of a straight course from the Islands Saigon.

German Vessel Released.

Singapore, April 13.—The German collier Hinde refused clearance papers for Saigon yesterday, was released today. The vessel left port heading towards Pagon. She has forty-two hundred tons of coal for the Russians.

MANY GIFTS

Proposed to Be Distributed By Carnegie—$12,500,000 in All.

Des Moines, Ia., April 13.—President Bradley, of Iowa college at Grinnell, has announced that a plan was recently presented to Andrew Carnegie which, if adopted, will mean a gift of $12,500,000 to fifty colleges located in 17 middle west states. It is proposed that this sum shall be apportioned among colleges at an average of a quarter of a million each, 50,000 to be used by each school for a science building and the remainder for endowment of that department.

This proposal was outlined to Carnegie after the failure of a request for $1,000,000 each to the endowment funds of Iowa college, Grinnell; Colorado college, Colorado Springs; Knox college, Galesburg, Ill.; Beloit college, Beloit, Wis.; Washburn college, Topeka, Kas.; Mr. Carnegie stating that he was unwilling to single out so small a group of colleges for special favors.

HOSPITAL BOARD

MET THIS AFTERNOON AND ELECTED DR. BOYD SECRETARY.

Will Discuss Plans For Managing and Furnishing the New and Elegant Building.

The new hospital board will this afternoon hold a meeting for the purpose of organizing and outlining some plan for the management of the new hospital. It does not appear to be certain how the new building is to be furnished, and to devise ways and means to get funds is one object of the meeting today.

If it is decided to have both a superintendent and matron, there will be plenty of applicants for both positions.

Miss Lena Henneberger and Mr. Frank Dunn have applied for the position of superintendent and there are half a dozen applications for matron. Dr. Olivia Nelson is prominent mentioned for superintendent.

When the board agrees on its plans and the probable cost of furnishing the hospital, the legislative boards will then be given the matter.

Upon meeting this afternoon, Mayor Yeiser presided and Dr. Frank Boyd was elected secretary of the board. At press time the board was discussing the hospital and plans for furnishing and managing it, but had done nothing else.

CAIRO MAN DEAD.

Got On a Drunk at Evansville Over-Finding His Sister.

Evansville, Ind., April 13.—Daniel G. Fowler, of Cairo, Ill., died of tetanus tremens in a police cell this morning. He came here to locate a sister and found her and celebrated it with a spree which ended in death.

A Boy Fatally Hurt.

Lexington, Ky., April 13.—James Hunt, aged 12, was thrown from his horse today, his foot caught in the stirrup and he was dragged a mile. His head was crushed, and one leg was torn from his body.

INSANITY PLEA FOR MRS. BROCKWELL

Motion Made by Her Attorneys for a Continuance.

It Was Stated They Wanted Her Mental Condition Established—Murders Was Calm.

AFFIDAVIT ORDERED BY COURT

Mrs. Mary Brockwell, charged with the murder of her three youngest children, Ola, Lilly and Lucy, did not plead guilty today.

She was not given a life sentence. No agreement had been made between her attorneys and anyone else, it developed, relative to her punishment, and the attorneys for the commonwealth had no understanding or agreement with anyone, and did not know what the prisoner intended to do when arraigned.

The rumors that any agreement was made, and that she would plead guilty through her attorneys and that a sentence for life had been agreed on, were all untrue and without any foundation whatever, as the Sun said when they were first made.

On the other hand, Mrs. Brockwell's attorneys will make a fight for her. They will plead insanity. She may not be insane, she may not think she is insane herself, and her attorneys may not think she is insane, but they are going to make a fight for her with that defense, and it may be sometime before it is known whether she will go to the asylum or the penitentiary.

Mrs. Brockwell appeared indifferent and composed when brought over from the jail about 10 o'clock this morning.

When the case was called Attorney Hal Corbett moved for a continuance. He stated that he wanted an opportunity to have his client examined as to her sanity.

Commonwealth's Attorney John G. Lovett objected, and said that he did not believe that the court should consider a proposition like that—to allow the defense five months, in which to trump up evidence of insanity.

The court ordered that the defense prepare an affidavit for a continuance and the case was passed.

Mrs. Brockwell sat beside her attorney in the circuit clerk's office while he was drawing up the affidavit and had little to say. She was neatly dressed and did not appear as cheerful as when she was brought out of jail last Saturday after being indicted.

The plan of the defense is doubtless to get the woman in the asylum, if possible, on the plea of insanity. It will probably require some little time to secure the inquiry into her mental condition, making it unlikely that she will be tried at this term of court, even if it should be determined before the present term of court ends, that she is sane.

If she is declared insane and must be tried, there is still a chance for the inevitable continuances, and after that of hung juries, new trials and appeals. It is not likely that a jury would give her more than a life sentence, hence with every assurance that Mrs. Brockwell will never get more than a life sentence for her crime, she may still be far away from the beginning of that sentence.

It was stated this afternoon that the motion for a continuance in the Brockwell case would be argued sometime this afternoon before court adjourns and possibly passed on by Judge Reed.

Attorney Hal Corbett stated this afternoon that the affidavit on which the argument for a continuance will be made this afternoon late will simply allege that County Physician J. W. Pendley said he believed the woman of unsound mind and that if the court will continue the case until the next term she believes that she can be better prepared to defend herself.

She will claim that it will be necessary to introduce as witnesses men skilled in mental diseases and their treatment, and who are experts in the line, which testimony she does not believe she can produce at this term of court.

WERE AGAINST

Bowling Green, Ky., April 13.—The Logan Presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterian church in session at Mt. Olivet, this county, last night took a vote on the proposition of a union with the northern church. The vote was thirty to twenty-eight against the proposition.

USED EXPLOSIVES TO GET OUT OF JAIL

Daring Deed of Seven Prisoners in West Virginia.

St. Paul Man Shoots Boy and His Mother—Two Killed in Tenderloin Row in New York.

NO ONE HURT Y. & M. V. WRECK

Clarksburg, W. Va., April 13.—Seven prisoners confined in the Lewis county jail blew up a portion of the structure with nitroglycerine this morning and escaped. A posse with bloodhounds is scouring the country for the prisoners.

Man's Fiendish Deed.

St. Paul, April 13.—Early this morning Ollis Williams entered the flat of Frederick Keller and shot John Keller, aged 16, as he lay in bed. He then shot the boy's mother who is in the hospital and will probably die. No reason is known for the crime.

No One Hurt in Wreck.

Vicksburg, Miss., April 13.—No one was injured in the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley wreck near here this morning. The engine went over an embankment and all the cars were derailed except the sleeper.

A Lively Tenderloin Row.

New York, April 13.—During a row in a Tenderloin saloon early this morning a gang of roysters stabbed the bartender, instantly killing him and probably fatally stabbing the proprietor and a waiter. Eight men and two women were engaged in the row and all escaped.

Oil Inquiry Begins.

Topeka, Kan., April 13.—Boycotts, discrimination, freight rates and charges in the prices of oil are the subjects which commissioners of Corporations Garfield will investigate during his stay in Kansas. He expects to inquire into nearly eight phases of oil situation in the west.

ONE OF FOUR.

Frederick, Okla., April 13.—Yesterday was an ideal day for President Roosevelt and his party of hunters in the big pasture. One of the diversions of the camp was a series of footracing. The president also participated. Here he failed to distinguish himself, however. In one of the hunts a wolf was chased over the hills and through the creeks and timber for ten miles. Only the hardest and best riders could keep up such a terrific pace as this for any distance. When the wolf was finally captured, there was but four of the party within sight and one of them was President Roosevelt.

H. C. FRICK TIPPED FOR CABINET PORTFOLIO.

Washington, D. C., April 13.—It is persistently rumored that Postmaster-General Cortelyou is to be transferred to the treasury department as secretary upon the resignation of Secretary Leslie M. Shaw next February. H. C. Frick, the steel magnate, is slated for the postoffice portfolio.

It is known that President Roosevelt desires to bring Mr. Frick into his cabinet and contemplated making his secretary of the treasury, but it has been ascertained that the law prohibits an importer from holding a treasury position.

Mr. Frick has signified his willingness to enter active politics.

AFFECTING SCENE

When Nan Patterson and Her Sister Meet in Tombs Prison.

New York, April 13.—There was an affecting scene when Nan Patterson and her sister, Mrs. J. Morgan Smith, met in the Tombs prison. When last they saw each other they occupied an apartment together in an uptown hotel. Today both were prisoners. Miss Patterson had gained the consent of the warden to see Mrs. Smith as soon as she was brought to the prison. They were left alone, standing with their arms about each others shoulders, weeping bitterly. As the attorneys and several prison officials stood outside the room J. Randolph Patterson, the aged father of the prisoners, joined the group. He pleaded with the warden not to separate the girls.

"If you can grant an old father's wish," said he, "keep the girls as near together as you can while they are incarcerated."

Warden Flynn said he would do all he could for him, and arranged to have the prisoners on the same tier in the women's prison.

COOK HIS BODY.

Printer Found Dead in Turkish Bath House.

Nashville, Tenn., April 13.—M. F. Campbell, a printer, for several years in the employ of the American, was found dead in the hot-air room of a bathhouse, his body cooked.

One physician considered death due to alcoholism, and another attributed it to excessive heat. Campbell went to the bathhouse about 3 o'clock, saying that he wanted to sweat the whiskey out of him. An attendant was in the room then and two and a half hours after, but Campbell was not visited by anyone after that till 6:30 o'clock, when another attendant found him dead.

Following the discovery of the body, a coroner's jury began an investigation, examining several witnesses, and adjourning till tomorrow. Campbell leaves a wife and five children, and was 49 years old.

HARTFORD SHOWS FIGHT.

Prison Commissioner Attacks State Senate Pope.

Nashville, Tenn., April 13.—W. H. Hartford, chairman of the board of prison commissioners, and State Senator Thad. W. Pope had a personal encounter in the Twine lobby last night growing out of the recent sensational report made by the senate's prison committee. Hartford had just read the sensational account of the report when Pope passed through the lobby. Hartford took him to task about the committee's report. Words were exchanged, and Hartford characterized parts of the report as a "d— lie." He struck at Pope, who clinched with him, and friends intervened before much damage was done. Later Hartford apologized and Pope accepted his apology. The affair is said to have caused some feeling among other senators.

CHURCH UNION.

Virtually Decided On So Far as Cumberland is Concerned.

Pittsburg, April 13.—Rev. Dr. Charles R. Zahnizer, pastor of the Third Cumberland Presbyterian church of this city, who returned today from a meeting of Union Presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterian church held at Vanderbilt, Pa., yesterday, reports that the presbytery decided in favor of union with the Presbyterian church by a vote of 15 to 3. Dr. Zahnizer says the action of Union Presbytery virtually decides the question of union as far as the Cumberland denomination is concerned.

OUR PROTEGE

IS WHAT JAPANESE OFFICER SAYS JAPAN IS.

Arouses Much Enthusiasm At a Banquet in New York Last Evening.

New York, April 13.—Declaring it was the United States that gave to Japan the guns, smokeless powder, telephones and telegraph with which victory on the battlefield has been won, Baron Kaneko, of Japan, aroused great enthusiasm at a banquet tendered last night by the New York commandery to the general officers and delegates attending the biennial convention of military order of foreign wars.

"When you sent Commodore Perry to us fifty years ago," said Kaneko, "you introduced us to the world and the western civilization. Since you introduced us to western civilization, we have reorganized our army and made the emperor the head of it."

"We teach our soldiers never to fight with our neighbors and you gentlemen can rest assured we will never declare war with a foreign power, unless it is forced upon us. As long as the Philippines are near us, we welcome you as our good neighbors and we always come to you as your protege."

Prominent Woman Dead.

Bowling Green, Ky., April 13.—Mrs. Cella Newton, widow of James A. Newton, died this morning after a week's illness of pneumonia. She was one of the best known women of Bowling Green.

The Dairymen's Little Combine Did Not Turn Out as Expected.

It developed this morning that dairymen who come into the city daily and sell milk, a few days ago formed a combination to fight the validity of the city ordinance imposing a license tax of $8 on milk men.

Mr. G. T. Moss, a prominent milk dealer of the county applied for a license this morning and a Sun reporter happened in the office of City Clerk Bailey when he applied. He stated that when Mr. Claude Russell was arraigned in police court for failing to procure a license, the milk dealers decided to fight the case and proposed to sign a joint bond of $500 if necessary to carry the case to the court of appeals.

"We do not believe that we should be made to pay a license tax," Mr. Moss declared, "because we are producers and if we are taxed, then the city should tax farmers who raise grain and vegetables and bring them to town, because the milk men are just as much producers as the farmer. We do not believe that the ordinance is constitutional and intended carrying it to the circuit court, and in event of defeat in the circuit court to take it to the court of appeals and finally settle the question."

Mr. Russell, whose case was to be a test case, however, seems to have failed the dairymen, and instead of taking an appeal when he was fined by Judge Sanders as the other dairymen understood he would, he concluded to pay the fine, and did so, and the other milk men then became disgusted, and the combination was "busted."

Since then the dairymen have been coming in paying their license by the dozen, and fully twenty-five have already come across.

Most of the milk men "cuss around some" because the case was not taken higher, but none cared to make the fight after Mr. Russell decided not to.

Daily Thought.

Every man is born to do a certain to copy some other man, or to do some other man's work, he will be a misfit, a failure.—O. S. Marden.

The Weather.

CLEAN UP THE CITY.

Someone has wisely called attention to the fact that Chicago, now crowning over its municipal ownership victory, has owned the streets and alleys for many years, and their condition is not much of a credit to it.

Possibly every city has visions of municipal ownership. If it has it should begin educating the people up to the principle of the theory by keeping its streets and alleys clean and in good repair. If a city does not take good care of what it already owns or controls, what argument can it offer that it would do any better with what it does not own?

Our own municipal ownership advocates should begin by urging cleaner streets, gutters and alleys for Paducah and insist that cove be kept off the streets. A person has no more right to turn his cow loose on the streets to destroy other people's property than he has to keep a vicious dog and allow it to attack everyone who comes along. A man's property is just as sacred in the eyes of the law as his life or safety, and his yard and what it contains are certainly property.

Some of the local papers insist that the county has bought a tract of land for $1,000 "for burial purposes." Fancy the county paying $1, 000 for 22 acres of land for a pauper burial ground when it already has one. The fact is, the property was bought for a poor farm, and the intention of the committee is to sell the present poor farm and move the institution a mile beyond Tyler on the N. C. and St. L. railroad. That's why it paid $1,000 for 22 acres of land. The poor farm will certainly be moved unless the present plans of the committee miscarry.

A feature of the Hargis trial at Lexington is in marked contrast with the trial of Caleb Powers, says the Owensboro Inquirer. The regular panel was quickly exhausted in the attempt to select the jury and Judge

Parker drew 200 names from the jury wheel and placed them in the hands of the sheriff to be summoned as jurors. In the Powers trial Judge

Cantrill refused to draw the names from the wheel, but ordered the sheriff to select and summon jurors, with the result that is so well known.

The board of health has too long been a nonentity. There are good men in it, and they are invested with more real power in many things than the entire administration. There is an opportunity to win the everlasting gratitude of the people by getting down to work, and if they can accomplish nothing else, they can at least arouse such a storm of

IRISH HOME RULE PROVOKES DEBATE

In the House of Commons Last Night.John Redmond Makes a Fiery Speech Saying He Would Recommend Revolt Were It Not Hopeless.

MEETING ENDED AT MIDNIGHT

London, April 13.—Home rule for Ireland was the subject of discussion at last night's session of the house of commons. It came up on a motion of an Irish unionist member framed with the purpose of drawing out Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, (Liberal) and with the expectation that the opposition would evade the issue as the government has the fiscal question.

For the last few weeks the ministerial benches have been empty on private members night but tonight the government was well represented.

Premier Balfour was greeted with ironical opposition cheers when he entered the house. It was the first time this session that the Irish unionists had secured a chance to introduce the home rule motion. The opposition declined to dodge the issue and to imitate the government's recent attitude toward private motions on the fiscal question and when Campbell-Bannerman rose to speak the opposition shouted in union, "he did not run away."

Tuff (Conservative) called attention to those of the house to speeches by certain members of the opposition on the question of home rule for Ireland and moved that "in view of conflicting statements by various leaders on the subject of home rule, the house deems it is expedient for the member for Stirlingburgh (Campbell Bannerman) to declare whether it is his intention to recommend to the electors of the United Kingdom policy of establishing a parliament in Ireland."

Sir Walter Plummer (Conservative) seconded the motion. He said it was important for the country to know which side of the fence the opposition proposed to fill.

John E. Redmond declared that Ireland demanded home rule, not as a favor but as a right. If there were the smallest reasonable chance of success he would not hesitate to advise his countrymen to end the present situation by armed revolt; but they desired to terminate the ancient quarrel on terms satisfactory and honorable to both nations. He said the radical party would find this question an urgent and insistent one which would knock loudly at the door of next parliament.

Premier Balfour spoke briefly, alluding ironically to the dissensions of opposition leaders on the Irish policy and declaring that if the Liberals returned a large majority at the next elections, Irishmen might whistle, but if they emerged with a small majority they would cry in heaven's name for justice to Ireland.

It being midnight the debate was adjourned.

IN THE COURTS

Deputy For a Brief Time.

Mr. August Brahic was yesterday a deputy county clerk for a short time. There was a power of attorney filed several days ago from Caline Chanson, of France, to Albert Dumaime, of Paducah. The document was written in both French and English, and when it came to recording the French no one in the office could read or write it, and Mr. Brahic was made a deputy clerk long enough to copy and attest the French copy. The power of attorney was authorizing Mr. Dumaime to dispose of an interest in some property here.

WEDDINGS.

The wedding of Miss Minnie Scott and Capt. William Nelson, of the city, was solemnized last evening at 8:30 o'clock by Rev. W. E. Cave, D. D., of the First Presbyterian church at his residence on North Seventh street.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. John Farley, of Farley Place, and has made this city her home of recent years. She is an attractive young lady and is popular in a large circle of friends. Capt. Nelson is a son of the late Capt. Nelson, who was superintendent of floating stock for the Illinois Central railroad, and is a prominent young steamboatman, connected with the Edward Woolfolk line of boats. He has made the city his home for the past five years and stands high in the marine service.

Capt. and Mrs. Nelson will reside on Meyers street, Mechanicsburg.

Sam Bradford, of Farley street, and Miss Carrie Cross, of Tyler, Ky., left this morning on the Cowling for Metropolis, Ill., and were married on the boat there by Justice Liggett, the popular "marrying squire." They telegraphed in advance for a license. It was not a runaway match, the couple simply desiring to surprise their friends. They were accompanied by Mr. Harry Wallace and Miss Laura Cross, the latter a sister of the bride. They will return this afternoon.

BOARD OF WORKS MEETING

The board of public works held a short meeting yesterday afternoon. Street Inspector Alonzo Elliott reported in person and recommended that another street gang foreman be employed to look after the roller work. The name of Mr. N. F. Roberts was suggested and the street inspector was instructed and authorized to employ him to look after this part of the street work.

City Engineer L. A. Washington was present and the board instructed him to go ahead and draw his plans and specifications for the improvement of Third street without provision for car tracks.

A petition from several property owners on Jefferson street to have the sewerage extended half a square past Ninth on Jefferson street, was referred.

The board ordered City Solicitor Puryear to formally notify the street car company of what the city intended to do in regard to South Third street.

After the transaction of a few minor matters in routine business, the board adjourned.

DOCTORS AT THEIR MEETING
LAST NIGHT HAD GUESTS.

Committee on Entertainment for District Meeting Appointed.

The McCracken County Medical Society had one of the most enjoyable meetings in its history last night with Dr. H. P. Sights, in the Fraternity building. Drs. Stone, Stille and Thomas, of Benton, Dr. W. W. Richmond, of Clinton, and Dr. Hahn, of Ballard county, were among the guests.

Two interesting papers were read one by Dr. C. E. Purcell on "Education Preliminary to Medical Education," and the other by Dr. H. P. Sights on "Intestinal Obstruction." Two committees were appointed, one to arrange for the semi-annual meeting of the Southwest Kentucky Medical association in Paducah in May, and the other to arrange for the monthly meetings of the McCracken county association.

The committee on arrangements for the southwestern meeting is composed of Drs. Sights, Coleman and Reddick. The committee to arrange for the county meetings, which are always held in the country in summer, is composed of Drs. Holland and Kimbrough, of the county.

A large crowd is expected at the district meeting here in May and it is hoped to make the county meetings well attended during the summer.

TROUBLE FEARED FOR THE PRISONERS

Four Men Arrested for Murder of Sheriff.

Several Iowa Officials Arrested—Beef Trust Inquiry Is Still in Progress.

DEAD TRAMP WORTH $7,000.

Senatobia, Miss., April 13.—Four men alleged to have been members of a sextette of masked men that entered the jail and killed Sheriff Poag, have been captured and are being brought back to Senatobia. Residents of outlying districts have been flocking to Senatobia in considerable numbers. The streets are crowded and the city is aflame with excitement. Trouble is feared when the prisoners are brought to town.

Officials in Trouble.

Marshalltown, Pa., April 13.—S. Meekin, justice of the peace, and Geo. Mabie, constable, at Stanthony, Marshall county, have been arrested charged with oppression in office. Frank Buchanan claims that under cover of their office and by threatening him with arrest they got him to sign an affidavit that he voted illegally at the recent election.

Beef Trust Inquiry.

Chicago, April 13.—E. B. Fish, an employee of Schwarzhild and Sulzberger, was the principal witness in the beef trust inquiry yesterday afternoon. Great secrecy is maintained regarding Fish and his evidence. It was rumored but not verified that his testimony related to the disappearance of seven persons wanted as witnesses in the investigation and who are said to have gone to Canada at the commencement of proceedings before the grand jury.

Tramp Had $7,000.

Des Moines, Ia., April 13.—With certificates of deposits in Des Moines banks for $7,000 and bills worth $125 wadded together in the lining of his coat, William H. Talmohlen of this city was killed while picking up kindling, presumably for a living in the railroad yards here. He was dressed in rags and had for months been frequent visitor to the yards where he picked up coal and wood.

Music Contract to Be Let This Week
—No Trial Run.

The Carnival Association held a meeting at headquarters on South Third street last night and decided to at once begin advertising the carnival. A committee will be sent to Carbondale, Ill., next week to arrange for a big excursion to be run into Paducah during carnival week.

The I. C. has announced a one fare plus twenty-five cents rate for Dyersburg, Hopkinsville, Cairo, Jackson and other points, during carnival week.

The music contracts are expected to be made this week sometime. Fire and Police Commissioner John Bonds states that the fire department may take part in any of the parades, but not after nightfall, and that no trial run can be made on account of the danger to both department and people.

A contract has already been signed with Prof. John Dean's band for the week.

BOYS CAUGHT.

Were Wandering About in Cairo—
One Claims to Be From Paducah.

Two boys, aged about 18 and 21 years old respectively, and small for their age, walked by police headquarters this afternoon, says the Cairo Citizen. One of them was swinging a gold watch by a long chain. Their actions looked suspicious and Jailer Susanka called them into the police station. They gave the names of Scott Kennedy, of Paducah, and Frank Gough, of Owensboro, Ky. It is thought that they ran away from home and will be held pending investigation.

Southern Illinois Oil Field.

Carbondale, Ill., April 13.—The first step toward the development of the oil field of southern Illinois, situated east of this city, in Williamson county, has been taken by the organization of the Herrin Oil and Gas company, with a capital stock of $100,000. Up to date, eight distinct tests of as many different holes have been made, all showing a high grade of crude oil. The present company will begin at once the sinking of the first hole in the field.

JOPPA INQUIRY STILL GOING ON

Railroad and Tie Officials are There Yet.

A Demonstration Made to Show the Value of the "Treated" Ties of Modern Times.

AN INSPECTOR WAS CONVINCED.

The party of railroad and tie company officials who went to Joppa yesterday to investigate the inspection of ties has not yet returned.

It has developed that the complaint is not from the railroad companies but from the tie companies, the tie companies alleging that too liberal inspections are made. Ties are divided into several different classes. The first class, second class and "culls," the latter being the worst class. The companies ship all three classes and take chances. Some time the railroads take culls and often they turn them down, and of late, it is said, a number of culls shipped into Joppa and shipped out to railroads, have been refused by the railroads. The tie companies are supposed to adhere to an agreement relative to inspections but it seems do not live up to it fully and every now and then have to "get together," as a prominent tie man expressed it this morning.

Another feature of the inspection which has caused a great deal of comment is the treating of red oak ties. An inspector of the Rock Island road was at Joppa yesterday and stated he did not believe in "treating" ties, alleging that the ties might last longer under ground but that they would break off where the tracks came down on them.

The Ayer & Lord Co., which operates one of the largest treating plants in the country, made a demonstration which changed the inspector's views immediately. The C. & E. I. road has ties on its road bed which went through the treating process eight years ago and for the purpose of a test the ties were placed alternately, one "treated" tie being put by the side of a common white oak tie, which is supposed to be the most durable tie made. The track was lifted up for a distance of more than a hundred yards and not a treated tie was found to be in a bad condition, and contrary to the expectation of the railroad inspector, the common white oak ties were found to be rotten in many instances and not so well preserved as the treated ties.

This served to convince the railroad man that the treating process is economical and he left satisfied. The railroad and tie men will remain at Joppa until they see just what methods of inspection are employed.

ORPHAN BRIGADE.

Meeting of Survivors to Be Held at Louisville Tuesday.

A meeting of the survivors of the famous Orphan Brigade, their wives, widows and children, will be held at Louisville next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Arrangements will then be made for the Orphan Brigade reunion, which will be held at the same time as a department of the Confederate Veterans' reunion in June. Addresses will be made by Capt. John H. Leathers, chairman of the reunion executive committee; Col. E. Polk Johnson, Capt. J. T. Gaines, W. B. Haldeman and Thomas D. Osborne.

The Orphan Brigade is composed of survivors of the Second, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Ninth Infantry, First Kentucky cavalry and Cobb's battery. Major T. E. Moss, of Paducah, is one of the few survivors in this part of the state, and will not attend.

MURRAY NOTES.

(Ledger.)

The magistrates refused to make any appropriation for road and bridge purposes for this year so there will be no grading or bridge building at least until next year, they did not elect a road and bridge commissioner, as he would be more ornamental than useful without some show of war to work with.

The receipts of the Murray postoffice for the year closing with the 31st of March was $3,683.26. This is a healthy increase over last year and will give an increase in the salary in the near future. The above receipts do not include money orders, but are merely postal supplies sold.

Mrs. A. J. Grace, of the Dexter vicinity, died April 3, of heart trouble, and was buried at Owensboro, after prayer service conducted by Bud Donelson. She was a member of the Christian church and a good woman. She is survived by ten children, to whom the Ledger extends its sympathy in their loss.

Jas. W. Brown, of Hickman county, and Miss Birdie Wells were married last Sunday under the Chestnut tree; Rev. J. McPool performed the ceremony in his usual happy style. This is the tenth ceremony for Bro. Pool since the first of the year.

Walter England, of Paducah, came out last week to attend the funeral of his uncle, Mr. J. B. England.

Mrs. L. B. Duncan, of Paducah, visited her daughter Mrs. Artie Hale here this week.

At a recent meeting of the directors of the Commercial club of Paducah, Mr. D. W. Coons was elected secretary. Mr. Coons is well-known in this city and has visited here frequently. CHAPTER XII.

THOUGH his eyes, like live coals, glowered with sullen life at the strip of sand and the rocks in front, his troubled brain paid perfunctory heed to his task. The stern sense of duty, the ingrained force of long years of military discipline and soldierly thought, compelled him to keep watch and ward over his fortress, but he could not help asking himself what would happen if Iris were seriously wounded.

There was one enemy more potent than these skulking Dyaks, a foe more irresistible in his might, more pitiless in his strength, whose assaults would tax to the utmost their powers of resistance. In another hour the sun would be high in the heavens, pouring his ardent rays upon them and drying the blood in their veins.

Hitherto the active life of the island, the shade of trees, hut or cave, the power of unrestricted movement and the possession of water in any desired quantity robbed the tropical heat of the day of its chief terrors. Now all was changed. Instead of working amid grateful foliage they were bound to the brown rock, which soon would glow with radiated energy and give off scorching gusts like into the opening of a furnace door.

This he had foreseen all along. The tarpaulin would yield them some degree of uneasy protection, and they both were in perfect physical condition. But if Iris were wounded! If the extra strain brought fever in its wake! That was he saw nothing but blank despair, to be ended for her by delirium and merciful death, for him by a Berserk rush among the Dyaks and one last mad fight against overwhelming numbers.

Then the girl's voice reached him, self-reliant, almost cheerful: "You will be glad to hear that the cut has stopped bleeding. It is only a scratch."

So a kindly Providence had spared them yet a little while. The cloud passed from his mind, the gathering mist from his eyes. In that instant he thought he detected a slight rustling among the trees where the cliff shelved up from the house. Standing as he was on the edge of the rock, this was a point he could not guard against.

When her welcome assurance recalled his scattered senses he stepped back to speak to her, and in the same instant a couple of bullets crashed against the rock overhead. Iris had unwittingly saved him from a serious, perhaps fatal, wound.

He sprang to the extreme right of the ledge and boldly looked into the trees beneath. Two Dyaks were there, belated wanderers cut off from the main body. They dived headlong into the undergrowth for safety, but one of them was too late. Jenks' rifle reached him, and its reverberating concussion, tossed back and forth by the echoing rocks, drowned his parting scream.

In the plenitude of restored vigor the sailor waited for no counter demonstration. He turned and crouchingly approached the southern end of his parapet. Through his screen of grass he could discern the long black hair and yellow face of a man who lay on the sand and twisted his head around the base of the farther cliff. The distance, oft measured, was ninety yards, the target practically a six inch bulls-eye. Jenks took careful aim, fired, and a whiff of sand flew up.

Perhaps he had used too fine a sight and plowed a furrow beneath the Dyak's ear. He only heard a faint yell, but the enterprising head vanished, and there were no more volunteers for that particular service.

He was still peering at the place when a cry of unmitigated anguish came from Iris:

"Oh, come quick! Our water! The casks have burst!"

It was not until Jenks had torn the tarpaulin from off their stores and he was wildly striving with both hands to scoop up some precious drops collected in the small hollows of the ledge that he realized the full magnitude of the disaster which had befallen them.

During the first rapid exchange of fire before the enemy vacated the cliff several bullets had pierced the tarpaulin. By a stroke of exceeding bad fortune two of them had struck each of the water barrels and started the staves. The contents quietly ebbed away beneath the broad sheet and, flowing inward by reason of the sharp slope of the ledge, percolated through the fault. Iris and he, notwithstanding their frenzied efforts, were not able to save more than a pint of gritty discolored fluid. The rest, infinitely more valuable to them than all the diamonds of De Beers, was now oozing through the natural channel cut by centuries of storm, dripping upon the headless skeleton in the cave, soaking down to the very heart of their buried treasure.

Jenks was so paralyzed by this catastrophe that Iris became alarmed. As yet she did not grasp its awful significance. That he, her hero, so brave, so confident in the face of many dangers, should betray such sense of irredeemable loss frightened her much more than the incident itself.

Her lips whitened. Her words became incoherent.

"Tell me," she whispered. "I can bear anything but silence. Tell me, I implore you. Is it so bad?"

The sight of her distress sobered him. He ground his teeth together as a man does who submits to a painful operation and resolves not to flinch beneath the knife.

"It is very bad," he said; "not quite the end, but near it."

"The end," she bravely answered, "is death! We are living and uninjured. You must fight on. If the Lord wills it we shall not die."

He looked in her blue eyes and saw there the light of heaven. Her glance did not drop before his. In such moments heart speaks to heart without concealment.

"We still have a little water," she cried. "Fortunately we are not thirsty. You have not forgotten our supply of champagne and brandy?"

He could only fall in with her unreflective mood and leave the dreadful truth to its own evil time. In their little nook the power of the sun had not yet made itself felt. By ordinary computation it was about 9 o'clock. Long before noon they would be grilling. Throughout the next few hours they must suffer the torture of Dives with one meager pint of water to share between them. Of course the wine and spirit must be shunned like a pestilence. To touch either under such conditions would be courting death, apoplexy and death. And next day!

He tightened his jaws before he answered: "We will console ourselves with a bottle of champagne for dinner. Meanwhile I hear our friends shouting to those left on this side of the island. I must take an active interest in the conversation."

He grasped a rifle and lay down on the ledge, already gratefully warm. There was a good deal of sustained shouting going on. Jenks thought he recognized the chief's voice giving instructions to those who had come from Smugglers' cove and were now standing on the beach near the quarry. "I wonder if he is hungry," he thought. "If so, I will interfere with the commissariat."

Iris peeped forth at him. "Mr. Jenks!"

"Yes," without turning his head. He knew it was an ordinary question.

"May I come too?"

"What, expose yourself on the ledge?"

"Yes, even that. I am so tired of sitting here alone."

"Well, there is no danger at present. But they might chance to see you, and you remember what I!"

"Yes, I remember quite well. If that is all—There was a rustle of garments. "I am very manly in appearance. If you promise not to look at me I will join you."

"I promise."

Iris stepped forth. She was flushed a little, and, to cover her confusion, she picked up a rifle.

"Now there are two guns," she said as she stood near him.

He could see through the tail of his eye that a slight but elegantly proportioned young gentleman of the seafaring profession had suddenly appeared from nowhere. He was glad she had taken this course. It might better the position were the Dyaks to see her thus.

"The moment I tell you you must fall flat," he warned her. "No ceremony about it. Just flop!"

"I don't know anything better calculated to make one flop than a bullet," she laughed. Not yet did the tragedy of the broken kegs appeal to her.

"Yes, but it achieves its purpose in two ways. I want you to adopt the precautionary method."

"Trust me for that. Good gracious!"

BUT PADUCAH MISSED THE PERMANENT RECRUITING STATION.

Cairo Selected—Temporary Stations to Be Here and in Other Cities.

Paducah has failed to land a permanent recruiting station. It had been known for sometime that the government contemplated establishing one in this district and it was believed that Paducah would get it, but it is seen from the following from today's Cairo Bulletin that Cairo landed it:

"We have decided to locate the recruiting office in Cairo permanently," said Capt. Price, of the second infantry yesterday. "This is one of the best places we have for securing new recruits for Uncle Sam's army and navy."

Capt. Price says that Paducah, Ky., was also considered, but the department thought that this was the best location. "There is a large territory adjacent to Cairo that is easily accessible by both railroad and river and this is the chief reason why it was decided to locate the office here."

"The towns between here and Evansville and Memphis will be canvassed every six months by recruiting officers sent out from this office. Among the places where sub-stations to the Cairo office will be established for a few weeks each year are: Vienna, Harrisburg, Marion, Carmi, Carbondale, Mt. Vernon, De Soto, Ill., Paducah, Princeton, Hopkinsville, Marion, Morganfield, Uniontown, Ky."

A Dandy for Burns.

Dr. Bergin, Pana, Ill., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment; always recommended it to my friends as I am confident there is no better made. 'It is a dandy for burns.' Those who live on farms are especially liable to many accidental cuts, burns, bruises, which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is applied. It should always be kept in the house for cases of emergency." 25c, 50c, $1 bottle.

The meeting will last through the day and nothing of importance as far as is known will come up for action.

KENTUCKY SOLDIER FINDS HIMSELF OSTRACIZED BY MARRYING A NEGRESS.

Joined the Army at Paducah in August, 1903, It is Alleged, and Was an Artilleryman.

Washington, April 13.—According to a story from New York Walter S. Dilworth, a private in the One Hundred and Tenth company, coast artillery, at Fort Totten, Willet's Point, L. I., finds himself ostracized by his comrades as the result of his marriage to a negress of Flushing. Dilworth was married in Flushing on April 1 by the Rev. Charles J. Lawton, pastor of the American Methodist Episcopal church.

He intended to keep the ceremony secret until his term of service expired next year, but the news was given out by the bride's friends. Much indignation is expressed both among the men and officers at the fort, and some action may be taken by Lieut. McElgin, the officer temporarily in charge of the company.

It is stated at the war department that Dilworth enlisted at Paducah, Ky., August 31, 1903. He is twenty-seven years old, and is said to be a native of Kentucky.

KENTUCKY GRAND LODGE, K. OF H., VOTES TO ADMIT THEM.

Mr. E. G. Boone Elected Supreme Representative—The Per Capita Was Raised.

The Grand Lodge of Kentucky, Knights of Honor, before it adjourned at Louisville, adopted a resolution directing its representatives to the supreme lodge, which will be held at Atlanta in June, to vote for the admission of women into the order.

This question has been heretofore unfavorably considered by the supreme lodge, and now the grand lodges are thought to be nearly divided on the subject.

In addition to the other officers named yesterday Messrs. A. J. Hess, Columbus, and E. G. Boone, Paducah, were elected supreme representatives.

The per capita was raised from $1 to $1.60. The object of the increase is to make greater efforts for the propagation of the order. The membership remains about the same—2,130.

STATE CROPS.

First Bulletin of the Year Issued—Frost Did Little Damage.

The first weekly climatic bulletin for the year has been issued from the Louisville state weather bureau. Following are some of the extracts:

"The weather opened with farming operations and vegetation well advanced for the season, but the cooler weather which set in Tuesday and prevailed until Saturday rather retarded growth and prevented as much progress as would otherwise have been made. There was some rain during the week, and snow flurries were quite generally reported April 6. Frost occurred April 5, 6, 7 and 8, the last having been the heaviest. There seems, however, to have been very little, if any, damage done.

"Wheat is looking well, is generally in good condition and has a good stand. Hessian fly is reported as working some damage in the extreme western portion of the state. Tobacco beds are doing finely, and there are plenty of good plants. Breaking land for corn is progressing and some corn has been planted. Oats have been pretty well sown, and a large acreage was put in. Grasses, meadows and pastures are in splendid condition. Peach trees are in full bloom, and are unusually heavy with fruit. The prospect for a large fruit crop is promising, there being little or no damage done by the frost, though peaches suffered in some localities. Peaches were also somewhat winter-killed.

"The week was well suited for farm work, which is far ahead of what it was this time last year."

BIG PREPARATIONS FOR CONGRESSMEN

Paducah Should Extend the Glad Hand in True Kentucky Style.

A Great Deal Depends on the Impression Made by People of Various Places on Committee.

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB NEWS

The commercial club will at its next meeting take up the matter of entertaining the members of the rivers and harbors committee when it comes to Paducah about the 18th of May. It will be one of the largest delegations of prominent men ever in Paducah, and it is necessary that the city extend them every courtesy and hospitality, particularly as their mission is to inspect the Ohio with a view to acting on the nine-foot stage from Pittsburgh to Cairo. This action has been pending in congress for several years past, and the Ohio Valley Improvement Association has done a good work in so interesting these members of the rivers and harbors committee as to induce them to take a trip over the river to see what is needed.

The visit of the committee to Paducah offers a splendid opportunity for the shipping interests here and citizens generally to point out exactly what the river needs. If the members are impressed Paducah will get what she wants. Therefore, the importance of extending a cordial welcome to the congressmen and showing the need of river improvement here is apparent.

The trip is not being made at the expense of Uncle Sam, but under the auspices of the Ohio River Improvement Association.

The committee in Paducah will be nominally a guest of Congressman Ollie James.

All members of congress representing river districts have been working for the consummation of this junket for sometime, and they are exceedingly hopeful that it will result in great benefit to the Ohio and its tributaries.

The members of the committee are Representative Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio; Blackburn B. Dovener, of West Virginia; Roswell P. Bishop, of Michigan; Ernest F. Acheson, of Pennsylvania; De Alva S. Alexander, of New York; George P. Lawrence, of Massachusetts; James H. Davidson, of Wisconsin; James McLaughlin, of California; William Lorimer, of Illinois; Wesley L. Jones, of Washington; J. Adam Redge, of Minnesota; Rufus F. Lester, of Georgia; John H. Bankhead, of Alabama; Stephen M. Sparkman, of Florida; Joseph E. Ransdell, of Louisiana; Geo. F. Burgess, of Texas; B. G. Humphreys, of Mississippi.

The state development convention committee of the commercial club at Louisville, has decided to hold the convention early in October and to have sessions covering three nights and two days.

Resolutions were adopted urging that commercial organizations be formed at once in every county of the state in order that delegates may be sent to the convention. Other delegates will be members of the general assembly and men named by county judges and mayors. The committee authorized the chairman to appoint all necessary sub-committees and begin preparing for the convention at once.

The membership committee of the Commercial club, which has announced that it will hold a horse and dog show in June, says that it intends to make it one of the most elaborate affairs in the history of Paducah. They intend to make it as gorgeous and stupendous as the first carnival in Paducah was. This week, according to Chairman Ben Welle, the various committees will have charge of preparations will be named and active work begun. It is not decided yet exactly what all will be the attractions, but there will be plenty doing.

TO SIGN UP

JUSTICE SEARS ONLY WAITING ON THE SURVEY OF LAND.

Expects County to Use Property For Both Poor House and a Cemetery.

The poor house committee of fiscal court has not yet signed the deed for the 22 acres of land bought of Judge L. D. Husbands for $1,000, a mile from Tyler on the N. C. & St. L. railroad, as the survey has not been completed.

Justice Sears is the committee appointed by fiscal court to purchase suitable property, and states that the intention is to use the land both for the poor farm and for a burial ground, provided, of course, the present poor farm is sold.

The county has been trying to sell the present poor farm for several years, but has never been able to get its price. It has now sold a strip off it for a street for $500, and it is expected that as the locality is rapidly building up, there will be no trouble in selling the remainder of the property shortly.

When it is sold a new poor farm will have to be provided, and Justice Sears states that the intention is to use the site just negotiated for with Judge Husbands, both for the poor farm and county graveyard.

If fiscal court does not want the place for a poor farm, however, it can purchase property somewhere else. Justice Sears expects to have the papers all signed up in a few days.
